

Starting A Conversation

Good conversational skills are important in all of your relationships. This worksheet will help you think of questions to start a conversation in a variety of situations.

Directions

Try to think of at least two questions you can ask people about themselves in different situations to start a conversation.

a) Someone who is waiting beside you at a bus stop.

1) _____

2) _____

b) Someone who has been assigned to do a project with you.

1) _____

2) _____

c) Someone who has the locker beside yours.

1) _____

2) _____

d) Someone who you meet at a party.

1) _____

2) _____

e) Someone in a doctor's waiting room.

1) _____

2) _____

3) _____