

Do Something Different

When you are stuck on a problem and don't feel you can get past it, try a solution you never tried before. Even if can't identify what is bothering you, do something different today and see what happens. Write what you tried below. Then write about anything you learned from this experiment.

