

Area 5: Solving Problems with People

Activity: The Problem Planet

Objective: To identify behaviors that often cause problems between people.

Because we are all different, it is normal to have problems with each other once in a while. The way we behave toward other people can either help us get along better or cause more problems.

The creatures below live on The Problem Planet. They have a very hard time getting along with each other because of the way they behave. See if you can tell where the creatures on The Problem Planet live by matching their names and the way they behave to their caves. Draw a line from each creature to its cave.
