

Tracking Your Nervous System

This worksheet will help you identify how and what you can do to feel safe, get connected, and calm down. Use the chart below to track your nervous system. When you engage your nervous system, you teach it to help you become active, engaged, or calm. There are three systems to consider:

1. When you connect with others, you can trigger neural circuits in your body that calms the heart, relaxes the gut, and shuts down the fear response. The Social Engagement System is activated by talking to a trusted loved one, spending time with a pet, or doing pleasurable activities with other people.

2. The Sympathetic Nervous System is engaged when you are active and playful (such as when you are dancing), playing sports, stretching your body, or journaling.

3. The Parasympathetic Nervous System activates when you practice intentional breathing, listen to soothing music, receive healthy touch, or listen to a calming voice.
