

Imagine The Problem Is Already Solved

Suppose you are looking at your life five years into the future. How will your life look five years from now? Draw whatever comes to mind in the crystal ball.

